Aug. 22 1919.

Dear President Cutten;

I am told that Miss Dorothy MacMillan of Toronto is appling for the position of Librarian in Acadia University, and at her father's request I am sending you a note in her favour. Miss MacMillan has had a distinguished career in the University, graduating with first class honours in Moderns, a subject which we regard as an excellent qualification for library work. She has also been serving in our library, of which she will doubtless forward you satisfactory certification. Miss MacMillan has the gifts of character which I am sure would fit her well for the position and soon enable her to become a fine influence in the life of the University. She was a leader among the women students of University College in everything that was best. I may add that she belongs to a very gifted family, her Brother, who was a prisoner in Germany, being the youngest Doctor of Music in Oxford, as well as a graduate in Arts of Toronto.

I hope that you will pardon my type-writing, but I am doing my own as an amateur in northern Muskoka.

With kind regards I am yours sincerely

October 10th, 1919

President G. E. Cutten,
Acadia University,
Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

Dear President Cutten:

Will you please let me have the following statistics from your University :

(1) The number of graduates and undergraduates who enlisted.
(2) The number on the staff who enlisted.
(3) The number who fell.
(4) The number of returned men registered this year.

Yours sincerely,

President.
